COMMERCIAL INTELLIGENCE

FRIDAY EVENING, 16TH NOV. 1877.

Consols in London receded yesterday from 96¾ to 96⅝, but French Rentes have advanced from 105½ to 105¾.

Wheat and Seeds are unaltered with the exception of a partial decline of 3d. per quarter in Ferozepore Rapeseed, and the London General Produce Markets are unchanged throughout.

Piece Goods in Manchester are reported steady and the Liverpool Cotton Market opened steady but closed with supplies freely offered, the estimated sales being only 8,000 bales. Spot prices are unaltered with the exception of a reduction of 1/16d. per lb. in Fair Omra, and there is nothing fresh as to arrivals. The quieter appearance of the market at the close is probably due to the heavier receipts at the American ports yesterday, which were 4,000 bales in excess of the corresponding date last year, but should to-day's figures be small we may look for a recovery in tone, everything being governed at present by the American advices.

Yesterday's New York telegram makes no change in quotations, ready Mid. Uplands being still quoted at 11¼d. and February shipment at 11¼ cents per lb. The comparison of the receipts stands as follows :—

	1877.	1876.	1875.
Thursday's Receipts.....	32,000	28,000	26,000
Six days' do.	174,000	171,000	153,000
Total since 1st Sept ...	1,103,000	1,394,000	1,216,000

The Bank of England return for the week ending on Wednesday shows an increase in the reserve of £300,000 and a decrease in discounts of £500,000. Bullion being unchanged. The proportion of the Reserve to Liabilities has thus increased from 38 15-16 to 41 3-16 per cent., a considerable improvement ; but notwithstanding this, the rate of discount in the open market on 6 months' sight bank bills is given at 3⅛ against 3⅜ per cent.

Bar Silver in London is unchanged, the nominal quotation being 54½d. per oz., equivalent to about 1s. 8 13-16d. per rupee. Yesterday's P. and O. steamer from Southampton brings further shipments to the extent of £210,000—£170,000 for Bombay and £40,000 for Calcutta. Although less than the average shipments of late, this amount is of sufficient importance as showing that even at the reduced prices ruling supplies are still available, and we hear that there are in addition considerable shipments on the way from China both for this port and Calcutta.

Sterling Exchange—The steadier feeling which we noticed yesterday has been more apparent to-day, and although there has been no increase in the amount of paper offering, rates are partially 1/16d. higher. There is still nothing in the influences apparent, to warrant expectations of a material advance in rates ; on the contrary, with the likelihood of Council drawings being resumed at no distant date, the weight of probabilities is rather the other way ; but after the heavy fall of the past week a slight reaction is not to be wondered at. We quote on London :—

Bank Bills, on demand	1s. 8 13-16d.	per Rupee
Do. 6 months' sight...	1s. 9⅛ to ⅜	,,
Credits ,, 3 ,, ,, ...	1s. 9⅛d.	,,
Documents ,, 3 ,, ,, ...	1s. 9 5-16d.	,,

On Calcutta we still quote nominally, demand ¼ per cent. premium, 60 days' sight 1 per cent. discount.

Government Paper remains quiet at previous rates :—Fours, Rs. 94 ; Fours-and-a-half, Rs. 94½ ; Fives-and-a-half, Rs. 101¼.

The Share Market remains very quiet, few transactions have taken place and rates are generally unaltered. Bank of Bombays are steady at Rs. 393 per cent. premium, and other Bank shares are unaltered. Land Companies remain as previously quoted, and in Press Companies the only alteration is an advance of Rs. 50 in Bellary. Spinning and Weaving shares are fairly firm, although the few fluctuations noted are in favour of sellers. Broach Mills have declined Rs. 25. Dhurrumsey, Maneckjee Petit and Oriental Rs. 5, and Hyderabad Rs. 40 per share. Bombay-Burmah Trading Company have declined Rs. 15 per share.

Cotton to-day has been dull and in New Crop Re. 1 to Rs. 2 per candy lower, although old stuff read stilly brings about previous prices for local consumption. Transactions are reported in New Omra to close good February delivery at Rs. 209, Akote is quoted at Rs. 202, Ginned Broach at Rs. 212, and Hinganghaut at Rs. 217 per candy full pressed.

Linseed remains steady at Rs. 6-10 for readyand Rs. 6-4 per cwt. for April-May delivery. Rapeseed may still be called nominal at Rs.7-9 per cwt.

Freights by steamer are slightly firmer, owners at Home showing less disposition to fix at the low rates previously current. For Liverpool small engagements have been made at 25s. per ton, and a fair business has again been done for the Mediterranean ports for future shipment at £2-2-6 to £2-5 payable here for April-May shipment. For sailing vessels there is not as yet any enquiry.

Piece Goods continue fairly active in the Bazaar at previous rates, but the demand from first hands is still small. Local Yarns are quiet but goods are in active request at fully previous rates and the mills are now beginning to get their stocks into more moderate compass.

Coals are firm to arrive, but on the spot still weak and difficult of sale.

The Bombay Gazette

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 17, 1877.

We commented some time ago on the evidence afforded by a published address of Sir Richard Meade, on the occasion of the appointment of a new co-Regent at Hyderabad, that the estrangement which has for months, we might almost say for years, existed between the Government of India and Sir Salar Jung is of a very serious character, and seems to grow continually more bitter and intense instead of being softened by time. The Government of India has now taken a step which can leave no doubt as to the feelings with which it regards Sir Salar Jung's conduct, for it has summarily dismissed Mr. Oliphant, the Hyderabad Minister's trusted and confidential Private Secretary, from the Nizam's service, on the ground that he has proved himself to be a bad adviser for Sir Salar, as he has been instrumental in prolonging controversies which have been very embarrassing to the British Government. There can be no question as to the treaty right of the Government of India to exclude Europeans from the Nizam's service ; and our own opinion is that this is a power which the Government ought to possess and to exercise in case of need, or Native States would soon become the happy hunting grounds of European adventurers, who might endanger the maintenance throughout India of the paramount authority of Queen Victoria. Mr. Oliphant was not engaged by Sir Salar Jung till the Government of India had expressly sanctioned the appointment, and the same Government can at will withdraw the permission thus accorded. There is something, however, so shocking to the love of individual liberty of Englishmen unaccustomed to Imperial ways in the arbitrary dismissal of a gentleman of Mr. Oliphant's high character and ability from the Nizam's service that a very full

WHY is it assumed by the Morning Post and Standard that the English occupation of Quetta can have given no offence to Shere Ali, as the old Treaty gave the Government of India the right to send British troops into Khelat territory? We were not aware that the Ameer of Cabul considered himself in any way bound by that Treaty, or that he had abandoned his old claim to be the suzerain or overlord of the Khan of Khelat, who, as a vassal of the Afghan Ameer, would of course be precluded from forming independent alliances.

THE Deccan Herald has heard "that His Excellency Sir Richard Temple, Bart., K.C.S.I., is to be created a G.C.S.I. at the Calcutta Durbar on the 1st of January."

LIEUTENANT-GENERAL EWART, C. B., commanding the Allahabad Division, has been informed that he will be allowed, in spite of his recent promotion, to retain his divisional command until the end of September 1879.

COLONEL DRAYSON, R. A., who during a short stay in India has done much useful work on committees in reviewing the state of various fortified places in India, is about to go home on promotion to regimental colonel. He was President of the Committee on the Fort at Allahabad, and of another committee on the Forts of Delhi, Agra, Gwalior and Fort William, besides being a member of the Aden Defences Committee; and his recommendations have been highly approved at headquarters. His departure is to be regretted, as there still remained a good deal of similar work for him to do.

THE retrial of George Gregerson, for forgery, took place on Tuesday at Madras before Sir Walter Morgan and a new jury. In the first trial the jury could not agree upon a verdict, and were dismissed. In the second trial, the jury found the prisoner guilty on all the counts, and the Chief Justice sentenced him to four years' rigorous imprisonment.

MR. R. C. CARRINGTON, of the Marine Survey of India, writes the following letter to a Calcutta paper on Mr. Stanley's journey:—"Without wishing for one moment to detract from the great merits attached to Mr. H. M. Stanley's perilous journey across Africa, it should be made public that the connection of the Zaire or Congo with the great Central lakes of Africa was known many, many years ago. One of the maps in Mercator's Atlas, published, if my memory serve me correctly, by Jacobus Hondius in Amsterdam about the year 1650, shows clearly the connection of the Nile and the Congo with Tanganiki and Livingstone's newly-discovered lakes. The latitudes are wonderfully correct, and agree well with Livingstone's. I call d attention to this fact some years ago in the London newspapers, but up to the present time writers persist in describing Stanley's corroboration of the old Portuguese travellers' observations as discoveries. Why these lakes and rivers should have been omitted on modern maps, and the interior of Africa permitted to remain such a perfect blank, is indeed a mystery."

THE mortality at Mussoorie this season has been an unusually high one. One of the most sudden and appalling deaths was that of Mrs. Beresford, the wife of the manager of the Delhi Bank, which occurred a few weeks ago. We now learn by telegram, says a Calcutta paper, that death has snatched two more victims from under the same roof-tree. Mr. East, the accountant of the Bank, succumbed to a sudden illness, on Sunday evening, and a little child, a boy of Mr. Beresford's, died equally suddenly on the following morning. Mr. East had been for several years in the service of the Bank, the past four or five of which had been passed at Mussoorie, where he was very well known and generally esteemed.

A PESHAWUR correspondent writes on the 10th:—"An extraordinary case of poisoning happened here yesterday. An unfortunate lady, the wife of an officer in the station, had a quinine mixture sent to her, made up by a native doctor, and it appears that he put in Prussic acid instead of the usual acid for dissolving quinine; death was instantaneous. She leaves a large family, and her death is greatly regretted."

THERE was a severe thunderstorm throughout Lower Egypt on the 24th ult. which proved very destructive. The fresh-water canal at Chalouf, near Suez, on the road by which the Mecca pilgrims pass, burst in several places, undermining the railway and stopping the traffic. An accident also has happened to the express train from Alexandria to Cairo, at Kafr Zayat. Several persons were killed and injured, and among the latter is Mr. Tuck, the highly-esteemed superintendent of the Eastern Telegraph Company at Suez, who, with his wife (daughter-in-law of the English Consul at Suez), was returning from leave of absence. The lady fortunately escaped uninjured.

No uncertain sound has issued from the Indian press on the subject of the suppression by Government of public lotteries and sweeps. The action is generally regarded to have been precipitate, and the result of some ill-considered impulse. The Statesman ably argues the question; that paper says, "It is to be regretted, we think, that the Government of India should have made a fresh attempt to put down gambling by forbidding the publication of lotteries and sweeps. The Bishop of Peterborough once defended his opposition to an equally well-meant measure to put down drunkenness, on the ground that it was impossible to make men virtuous by Act of Parliament. Are there any philanthropists in England or India sanguine enough to believe that the result desired can be achieved by an order of the Governor-General in Council? Even were such a thing feasible, it could never be effected by notification, such as that which has appeared in the Gazette of India. Lotteries and sweeps have played a part too insignificant to be appreciable in the ruin of the youthful prodigals of Indian society. They occur far too rarely, and are much too tame, to satisfy those young gentlemen who never put less than a month's pay on the odd trick, and who make the nights hideous by their ceaseless wrangles over loo or black pool. If these waifs and strays are to be saved from the whirlpool that threatens to engulf them, far more stringent measures than the suppression of notices of lotteries and sweeps will be required. Horse racing must be put down altogether, billiard tables must be destroyed, every pack of cards must be banished from the country; it must be made penal for a tradesman to give credit; in fact, we must neglect no means which the wit of the most morbidly sour Puritan could devise for the purpose. And even then Lord Lytton will fail unless our accounts are stringently overhauled at the end of the year, and every one is liable to imprisonment who cannot show something for every pice he has spent. Half-hearted application of a thoroughly unsound principle is not, we are sure, the doing either of Lord Lytton or of his Council. The voice indeed is the voice of that seductive Jacob whose plausible fertility of expression has so often enabled the Governor-General in Council to make the worse the better cause appear; but the hands are too plainly those of an ignorant and influential party at home whose main object alike in judicial, in fiscal, and in social matters is to keep India in leading strings to England."

A CORRESPONDENT writes to the Army and Navy Gazette, enclosing an extract from a letter received from Lieut. Kunhardt, who, with Lieut. Hewson, was murderously attacked by some natives at Quetta, Beloochistan, in July last. Lieut. Kunhardt says:—"You remember that Mr. Hewson and I came here to build a residency and large cantonments for the troops. Well, on July 26, in the evening, after all the work was over, Hewson and myself went round the works with a contractor, who had just arrived from the down country, with the intention of showing him what he would have to do. When we got to the site of the residency we three were quite by ourselves, all the workmen having left for the day, and there was no one apparently near us. We were looking over a stack of stones, when I suddenly felt a tremendous blow on each shoulder. I immediately turned round and saw a huge Pathan standing close to me, just in the act of cutting at me. Instantaneously I hit him in the face with my fist and knocked him down. This gave me time to get clear of him and call for help. I was unarmed. Poor Hewson was stabbed, and then cut down almost at once by another man. Capt. Scott, of the 4th Sikhs, who was drilling some men about 200 yards off, snatched hold of a rifle, and followed by his men, bayoneted three or four assailants before the most gallant man; but more were killed and a few wounded. It appears that the men who attacked us must have been hidden somewhere, and then suddenly pounced on us from behind. The case has been carefully investigated, but the true reason for the murder will never be known. It may have been fanatical revenge of some sort. I believe, myself, however, it was done to try and stop the works that are going on up here. They thought that killing Hewson and myself would prevent the cantonments being built, at least for a time. I was stabbed in each shoulder, but luckily my man missed the joints. Both wounds are now almost healed up. I had a most miraculous escape. Everything is quiet again and the work going on as usual. The people up here are, without exception, the most awful savages I have ever seen in all my travels. They live by murder and plunder, and have no idea of any sort of virtue."

THE Jesuit Father Curci has been expelled from the Society of Jesus, for having in his works supported the idea that the Temporal Power of the Pope is not a necessary institution.

THE Times' correspondent at Gorny Sinden writes on Oct. 17:—The weather, which has been splendid here since the 13th, changed again last night to rain, with storm and cold. Many tents were blown down, and general discomfort prevailed. However, five days of dry weather have made an immense difference on the roads, which are easily traversable again—a perfect godsend to the cattle. I cannot find any reason for the idea that the cold and wet, when they do come in earnest, need close this campaign, certainly not as far as siege works are concerned. It is wholly and solely a question of transport, and this, on the other hand, when the cattle are good, simply means forage. I have never seen an army with such an overplus of transport means as this. Where we should use three horses, or even two, the Russians employ four or five, and so on in proportion. The horses are all of hardy race, accustomed to just such a climate or one rather worse. Then, as to forage, the country literally overflows with it—maize, oats, barley, hay of every sort that the horses like, and fresh wheat straw with the grain still in the ear. In the villages round here the horses of the Cavalry of the Imperial Guard are standing up to their knees in fodder. The transport cattle are just as well off, and thousands of bullocks and buffaloes do the heavier work and feed well upon coarser food. Besides the material brought from Russia by rail, 26,000 hired bullock-carts from Roumania and Bulgaria work the supply. There is no deficiency, therefore, under the two heads of transport and forage. While I write, and for hours past, interminable trains have been carrying shells and stores to Plevna at the rate of about two miles an hour. A few thousand yards of canvas, a few thousand poles, and there is no reason why the horses of the reserve Cavalry and trains should not be snugly housed and sheltered half under ground. The snow seldom lies, I am told, more than ten days at a time, and but a month in all, during the winter. Around Plevna itself, the villages of Urbitza, Gravitza, Tuchenitza, and Radichevo, going from right to left, furnish abundant shelter for the main body of the front line of the besieging force. The outposts must, of course, as before Metz in 1870, and, later, before Paris, be lodged in huts of boughs and straw, and even under tentes d'abri, with which each man is fully supplied.

WRITING on the possibility of a winter campaign in Bulgaria, the military critic of the Daily News has the following sensible remarks:—"A Hungarian journal contesting the opinion which has been frequently maintained, that the Russians cannot go through a winter campaign in Bulgaria, calls attention to the fact that in the last Russo-Turkish war the most important events took place in the winter months. In 1853, the whole month of October was occupied in the operations before Widdin and Kalafat, and the Danube was first crossed by some brigades of Omar Pasha's army at Nicopolis and Giurgevo on the 28th of October and the 1st of November. The battle of Oltenitza took place on the 4th of November, and that of Citate on the 5th of January. On the 10th of February the Russians attacked the Turkish flotilla at Rustchuk. The climate in Bulgaria is mild; and although snow and rain make bad roads almost impassable for ammunition and provision waggons, these difficulties were overcome both by the Russians and the Turks twenty years ago, when both the belligerents were much worse provided with the means of transport than they are now. These facts may be substantially admitted, for we believe no one has maintained that a winter campaign would be absolutely impossible. But the Russians, who in 1853 were in Wallachia, are now on the uplands of Bulgaria. Their supplies would have to be carried up to them, and not down, as were those of the Turks when they defended the Danube four and twenty years ago. Difficult, however, as is the task of the Russians it will apparently have to be performed. They are preparing to set free as much of their present transport as possible by constructing the field railway from Fratesti to Simnitza, which the contractor undertakes shall be ready at the beginning of December."

WE quoted a day or two ago a paragraph from a Berlin newspaper insinuating that newspaper correspondents have been forbidden to visit the Russian positions lest they should reveal to Europe the real condition of the army in Bulgaria. A special correspondent of the Daily News, however, flatly contradicts this suggestion. He says, in a telegram from Bucharest:—"It is utterly untrue that correspondents are now forbidden to enter Bulgaria, and that this measure is owing to the wish of the Russians to conceal the real condition of their army. Correspondents are only forbidden to visit the positions around Plevna, and they are allowed to go everywhere else even within two miles of the positions. They are allowed to go to Poradim, Prince Charles's headquarters, and even to Zgalince, Verbica, and everywhere that the hospitals and the number of the sick may be seen. The prohibition has absolutely nothing to do with the condition of the army, but is owing to the indiscretion of some correspondents who telegraphed the exact position of each division, brigade, and regiment before Plevna during the last attack, so that the Turkish Ambassador in London had ample time to telegraph all the dispositions of the Russians and Roumanians to Osman Pasha before the assault began. It is no wonder that the Russian staff should have taken the very mild measure of keeping correspondents out of their positions after these gentlemen had given proof of so little discretion. The only wonder is that they were not all sent out of Bulgaria. Whatever the faults of the Russian staff, they have not been severe on correspondents, nor have they ever showed any desire to conceal the truth. The Russian official reports may always be taken as correct."

THE Army and Navy Gazette:—Now that the Henri-Martini rifle proves such a formidable weapon in the hands of the Ottoman warriors, it might be interesting to note that even from German accounts the trajectory and carriage of it is surpassed by none except, perhaps, the newest model of the Mauser, which is said to carry as far as 1,600 meters. However, in one respect the Henry-Martini seems to be superior even to this non plus ultra of man-killer; its projectile shows the largest calibre amongst the best military rifles, a circumstance which must necessarily tell if other conditions—accuracy and force of propulsion—be alike. It appears that the following figures represent the capacities of the principal arms:—

Sytem.	Calibre in Millimeters.	Mean carrying distance in meters.
Mauser	11·0	 1,600
Henry-Martini.....	11·3	 1,200
Belgian Albini.....	11·0	 1,000
Austrian Wanbin.....	11·0	 1,200
Dutch Beaumont.....	11·0	 1,200
Russian Berden	10·7	 1,200
,, Karle (Krnka), a transformed rifle	15·3	 1,000
Bavarian Werder	11·0	 900
Chassepot (Gras)	11·0	 1,300
Remington (Egyptian and Scandinavian Rifle).....	11·4	 1,000

The Henry-Martini has been especially tried by Colonel Fletcher's Committee as a weapon for rough warfare in all climates, and the Turkish campaigns have certainly upheld its reputation in this respect. It would like to see it soon in the hands of all our Volunteers, and also learn that the Henry-Winchester magazine loader, so highly recommended by Colonel Fletcher's Committee nearly ten years ago, will receive renewed attention, as it seems to be peculiarly adapted for Light Cavalry, Engineers, the Army Service Corps, and irregular corps.

THE Times:—The French Government has been as ill-served by its Clerical as by its Imperialist allies. Few things have done it more harm than the addresses of its episcopal and priestly supporters. The French are not less religious than they used to be; but most of them display a growing determination to confine the priest to his own functions and, above all things, to prevent him from meddling with politics. Partly, that jealousy of clerical dictation is a remnant of the old days when the Church was the servant of an indescribably oppressive Court. But it also comes from the new political activity of Catholicism itself. The village priests are no longer the same easy-going and tolerant persons as they were while Gallicanism was still an active force. The spirit of Ultramontanism has transformed them into an active, aggressive, disciplined army. They seek to regain their influence over schools and colleges, the Army and the National Assembly, because they believe that in no other way can they hold their ground amid the changes of modern society. The clergy think that the Republicans would push them out of the village schools, prevent the accumulation of ecclesiastical property, and disendow the Church. Hence the Bishops and the priests have passionately cast themselves on the side of the Monarchical Parties, and the alliance of the Church has been accepted alike by Royalists and Imperialists. But it has done them more harm than good. M. de Fourtou was obliged to dethrone with some vehemence a Bishop not to belong to the Clerical Party, and the Marshal was also forced to say that he was not the servant of his priestly allies. How little the Catholic Church could help the Government may be seen from the elections in Brittany, which is still incomparably the most Clerical part of France. There, if anywhere, should we look for that devotion to the altar which contributed imperishable chapters to the history of France during the tempest of the Revolution. But even Brittany is drifting far away from political Catholicism. Finisterre has returned no fewer than five Republicans, and only two supporters of Marshal MacMahon. The Côtes du Nord is equally divided between the two Parties, and even Morbihan, the very citadel of priestly power, has elected one Republican. Bishop Dupanloup, the leader of the political Catholics, has joined his appeal to that of Marshal MacMahon, and both share in the condemnation which has been pronounced by the nation.

THE World:—"Have the French so very strong a sense of the ridiculous, after all? In L'Illustration d'un Crime there is a passage, finely and keenly comic to my mind, purely tragic to the author's, in which M. Victor Hugo describes himself and a colleague in the midst of the coup d'état, with their heads out of the windows of an omnibus, taunting a regiment of cuirassiers. The scene is forcibly given in very short paragraphs. M. Arnaud (the colleague) denounced Bonaparte and the army with his head and shoulders protruding from the window, and Victor Hugo thus describes him: 'On croyait voir la rayonnante et foudroyante figure d'un Christ irrité.' The cuirassiers, I am sorry to say, took not the least notice of the two literary gentlemen. Imagine Mr. Swinburne (in case of political complications in our own happy country) defying monarchy and the Household troops from the windows of a passing omnibus, and refusing to be appeased by the conductor!"

THE Bishop of Gloucester and Bristol at the triennial visitation, in delivering his Charge, said that three great evils in the Church in the present time were lawlessness, caballing, and sacerdotalism. The grave dangers which menaced the Established Church might be all summed up in those three forms. Denouncing the concerted opposition to the Ridsdale judgment, his lordship said:—"If cheerful obedience cannot be rendered to existing laws and to the Court by which they are administered, only two courses are open—viz., either to obey under protest, and, while so obeying, to use all constitutional means to bring about alterations, or frankly to retire from the office or position which is held on the condition of obedience."

THEFT.—Two native lascars of the s. s. Java were convicted yesterday by Mr. Nana Morojee of stealing seven pieces of cloth on board that vessel belonging to the B. I. S. N. Co., and were each sentenced to four months' hard labour in the House of Correction.

THE quantity of cotton shipped from ports in Sind to foreign or external ports, during the month of October, amounted to 783 bales, weighing 474 candies and 608 lbs., valued at Rs. 74,999.

A SALUTE of seventeen guns was fired yesterday morning, from the Saluting Battery, on the occasion of the departure of H. E. the Governor of Bombay.

A DISHONEST GOLDSMITH.—Yesterday, at the Fort Police Court, a Hindoo goldsmith, named Madhoo Sonoo, was convicted by Mr. Nana Moroojeef of criminal breach of trust in respect of two and-a-half tolas of gold belonging to Gunput Narayen, and was sentenced to three months' rigorous imprisonment.

CASE OF COUNTERFEITING.—Yesterday, two Hindoos, named Rabajee Narayen and Dyal Ruttonsee, were committed by Mr. Dosabhoy Framjee to take their trial at the ensuing Criminal Sessions of the High Court under the following charges. Prisoner No. 1 with abetting the offence of counterfeiting coins of the Baroda State, and with being in possession of materials, instruments, &c., for the purpose of counterfeiting coins of the Baroda and Jeypore States. Prisoner No. 2 with being in possession of counterfeit coins of the Baroda State, and fraudulently attempting to induce a person to receive them, and also with being in possession of instruments for counterfeiting coin of the Baroda State.

WE understand that the ex-Chief Secretary to the Government of Goa, Mr. Eduardo Salsemao, is now in Bombay on his way to Portugal. His Excellency is a nephew of the late Marquis da Sa de Bandeira. During the short tenure of his office, he effected some material reforms in connection with the administration of the State, and had his stay in Goa been prolonged, there is every reason to believe that he would have conferred much good upon the people. In dealing with all classes, his conduct was ever marked with impartiality and kindness.

A CORRESPONDENT writes to us as follows:—"The paragraph in your local columns on Wednesday reporting a solemn requiem high mass for the late Mr. Joseph de Lima, presided at by the R. C. Bishop, is incorrect. The Bishop was not present, and the only low mass in which members assisted in accordance with the rules of the Society of the Sacred Heart, of which Mr. de Lima was a member. The statement that he is the cousin of the late Count de Souza of Marseilles is equally incorrect. Your informant sometime ago imposed upon you by stating that his brother, Mr. Michael de Lima, had gone to Europe to receive a legacy left by a deceased aunt."

PRESERVATION OF ANCIENT BUILDINGS AT GOA.—The Goa Government Council has issued an appeal to the several religious communities to set apart a certain sum of money from the yearly savings, and to assist in the repair and preservation of the ancient religious churches and monuments at old Goa and Rachol. The magnificent buildings which were once the pride and glory of the country, and the ruins of which present even to-day a great attraction for strangers who visit the settlements of late have been utterly neglected, and are rapidly crumbling into utter ruin. This proposal for their preservation will, it is hoped, be liberally responded to by the communities whose religious sensibilities are shocked at the decay which has been allowed to overtake these sacred edifices.

REJOICINGS IN THE KHOJAH COMMUNITY.—His Highness Aga Ali Shah, eldest son of His Highness Aga Khan, arrived in Bombay on Monday morning last per steamship Coconada from Kurrachee, accompanied by Mr. Hasumbhoy Goolam Hoosein, the mookhee or leader of the Khoja community here, who had proceeded to Kurrachee to escort His Highnes to Bombay with all the honours due to his position. About two years ago Ali Shah went to Kurrachee, at the invitation of the heads of the Khoja community there, for the purpose of settling a caste dispute which had arisen among them; and having accomplished the work, he now returned to Bombay. A large number of Khojahs were present at Apollo Bunder on Monday morning to give a hearty welcome to His Highness as he landed at the bunder. In honour of His Highness' return, grand illuminations were made on Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday evenings at Aga Khan's bungalow in Love Lane, Mazagon, at the expense of the Punjabhis, certain officers of the Khoja caste. On the last mentioned evening, a caste dinner was also provided at the expense of the same officers, to which His Highness, his brothers, and all the members of the Khojah community had been invited.

THE Director General of Post Office, Mr. Montesth, is now in Poona and will leave on Monday next, we are informed.—Deccan Herald.

WE have been informed that Mr. Lake, the present Superintendent of the County Jail, Bombay, will resign the service in March next, and proceed to England in April. Mr. Lake arrived in India in May 1852, and he has therefore been in India 26 years, and except a short leave on private affairs in 1867, he has been at his duty all this time. He was present at the siege of Mooltan, medal and clasp 1848-49.—Id.

THE GHAT DACOITIES.

THE trial of Dadu Bahiroo, and others, for dacoity on an extensive scale above and below the ghats during a period of some five years, will take place on Monday next at Tanna before the Sessions Judge, Mr. Coghlan. There are several distinct cases against the prisoners, for whose apprehension and conviction a large reward was sanctioned by H. M.'s Secretary of State.

RECEPTION OF THE NEW GOVERNOR GENERAL AT GOA.

THE B. I. S. N. Co's Steamer Pemba, conveying His Excellency Sergio de Sousa, the new Governor General of Portuguese India and his staff, was sighted at 4 p. m. on the 8th instant from the Fort of Agoada, when three guns were fired, which were responded to by the other forts as a signal of the approach of the steamer. The news brought a large number of people, who lined the road Boa Vista to catch a sight of the new Governor, and troops were posted at the Rua de Florus. The principal inhabitants had assembled at Government house, which, together with some public and private buildings, were illuminated. The steamer anchored at 8 p. m. in the river Mandovy before the Governor's palace, when His Excellency was received at landing by Dr. Costa Mendes and the principal civil and military authorities. After introductions and interchange of courtesies he was conveyed to the palace amidst the enthusiastic vivas of the multitude and the discharge of artillery. It being late, the usual salute from the several forts was reserved for next day. The public installation of His Excellency was arranged to take place on the 12th instant.

VISIT OF H. E. THE GOVERNOR TO THE BYCULLA SCHOOLS.

ON Thursday last, H. E. Sir Richard Temple, K. C. S. I., paid his first visit to the Byculla Schools. His Excellency was accompanied by Miss Temple, Mrs. T. W. Evans, M. P., and an A. D. C. H. E. arrived at 5 p. m. and was received in the Hall by the Managing Committee and the Head Master, Mr. Walters. The Committee was represented by Mr. J. W. Orr, Rev. G. C. Reynell (Hony. Sec.), Mr. C. W. L. Jackson (Hony. Treasr.), and Capt. G. W. Oldham, R. E. His Excellency went at once to the drill ground, where the boys were drawn up under their drill instructor. At the request of Sir Richard the boys went through their drills and performed several movements so accurately as to meet with the approval of His Excellency and the military officers present. H. E. then made minute inquiries into the state of education in the schools, and he was pleased to learn that it was well reported of by the Educational Inspectors. Sir Richard next visited the schoolroom, where a picked choir of trained voices awaited him. The programme was as follows:—

Part Song, Hardy Norseman.—Pearsall.
How Blissful.—Doinzetti.
,, Spinning Wheel.—Meyerbeer.
Round, Southerly Wind.—Ferrari.
God save the Queen.

The rendering of these pieces by the children was excellent. Sir Richard told Mr. Walters and the choir that he was very much pleased, and had not expected to find the children so accomplished. Having inspected all the premises, H. E. informed the Managing Committee that he considered the Institution to be well managed, and a great credit to all concerned in its government. H. E. left with three hearty cheers from the boys.

THE CHARM OF NOVELTY.—Whatever may be said of the Charm of Novelty, it is only after a preparation has stood the test of extensive use for a number of years that one can accord to it entire confidence. For years Mackenzie's ROWLANDS MACASSAR OIL has been extensively used all over the world, and abundant testimony is forthcoming as to its thorough efficiency in increasing the growth of the hair and producing a beautiful glossy appearance. The genuine Macassar Oil has in the bottle a glass stopper, and on the wrapper the signature A. Rowland & Sons, in red ink. Buy only Rowlands'; sold all over the world by chemists, druggists, bazaar and store keepers. Bombay wholesale and retail agents, TREACHER & Co. Ltd., Byculla and Fort, also at Poona.

THE DRAINAGE COMMISSION.

THE Commission sat at the Town Hall on Thursday afternoon, when Mr. Braham was examined as follows:—

By the President—You are a Civil Engineer and Deputy Executive Engineer to the Bombay Municipality? A—Yes, I am. Q—And you have submitted a scheme to the Municipal Commissioner for the sewerage and drainage of Bombay? A—Yes. Q—Your scheme contemplates a double outfall? A—Yes. Q—Can you say where the outfalls are to be? A—One is the outfall that was proposed by Mr. Pedder and Mr. Walton and the other is at very much the same position as the outfall proposed by Mr. Aitken at Colaba, at the lighthouse. Q—A double outfall, one to the North and the other to the South? A—Yes, to the South of the island, on the east side. Q—What is your object in having a double outfall? A—Well, I think first that the outfall proposed by Mr. Walton is not by any means so good an outfall as one could wish for, and I think that in the drainage of a large city, great difficulty is always found in the enormous quantities of sewage that you have to discharge at one outfall. If the outfall at Worlee were a very long distance from the city, and it was not on the side of the wind, and the current would take it right away from the city, then I think there would be no object in having two outfalls; but I think the conditions are quite different with regard to the Worlee outfall, and therefore I think if you could adopt another outfall, quite independent of the one proposed at Worlee,—if, in fact, you could have two outfalls, one quite independent of the other, you would do away to a very great extent with the difficulty always experienced in disposing of the drainage of a large city. That is to say, there can be no doubt at all, I think, supposing you had two rivers, say one to the north and one to the south of Bombay, and both going away in quite opposite directions, and having outfalls quite independent—no doubt the proper thing would be to take part of the sewage to one outfall and part to the other; in fact, to halve the sewage into two. Q—To make it more manageable, I suppose? A—Yes, to make it more manageable. Q—Then you have objections to the outfall to the north of Love Grove, and that is why you suggest another outfall, having it at Colaba. A—Quite so. Then, we certainly have two outfalls in Bombay, one quite independent of the other, and the thing to look to is which is the better outfall of the two, supposing you were going to discharge the whole of the sewage at one outfall. First, I think the first consideration in selecting an outfall, a marine outfall—where the outfall is placed, you may say in the heart of the city, as it must be at Worlee, the very first consideration to look to is the position of the prevailing winds. Now there is no doubt, with regard to the Worlee outfall, that it is to windward of the city, and you could not on that ground have a worse outfall than the one at Worlee. Then another thing to look at would be the direction of the current, and I have very little doubt at Worlee that for 8 months in the year at any rate, the direction of the current is from North to South, and I will explain, further on, my reasons for supposing it. That is entirely against the Worlee outfall. There is another thing to look to in the velocity of the current. On these points, I may say, I am comparing the Worlee outfall with the Colaba outfall, and the Colaba outfall has the advantage of the Worlee outfall on all these points. It is on the right side of the wind, and the current is in the right direction, taking it right away from the city. Then as to the velocity of the current. From Mr. Aitken's experiments, which, as far as they went, were very complete and very carefully done, it is shown that the velocity of the current opposite the Worlee outfall is about one-height to half a mile an hour. Now, at the Colaba outfall, the current runs from half a mile to 1½ miles an hour; and therefore in that respect also, the Colaba outfall is a much better one than the Worlee outfall. With regard to the Worlee outfall again, I think there can be very little doubt that, as Col. Tulloch estimated, the discharge from one outfall will eventually amount to the enormous volume of 400 cubic feet a minute.

The President—For a million inhabitants?

Mr. Braham—That is for a million and a half, which we must look to. I believe now, there are over a million people in Bombay; the population has increased very much since the last census was taken, I understand, in 1872, and carrying out any drainage scheme for Bombay, that there will be a million and-a-half of population. And supposing the sewage of a million and-a-half of people to be discharged from one outfall at Worlee, I have no doubt in my mind that a great deal of the sewage must be floating on the surface of the water. We have an example of that in the discharge of the night-soil at Carnac Bunder. Mr. Ormiston, I believe, said you could see it very distinctly floating on the surface at the same, and that you could smell it if you got on the wrong side of the wind even out at sea some little distance.

By the President—Where was Mr. Ormiston speaking of? A—He was speaking of the Carnac Bunder sewage. Where was he when he said he smelled this? A—I think he said about half a mile out at sea. Q—That is, the mouth of the harbour. A—No. I think it is in his evidence given before the last Drainage Commission; I do not remember what distance it was out, but a considerable distance, I am not sure that he did not say half a mile. Q—At the mouth of the harbour?

Mr. Hart—No, off the Carnac Bunder.

Mr. Braham—Opposite the Carnac Bunder.

The President—You think half a mile from the Carnac Bunder?

Mr. Braham—Yes, I think so. But if you discharge large volumes of sewage into the sea—and Col. Tulloch had the same idea—it goes out to sea, and a good deal must be floating on the surface, and a wind passing over it must be to a certain extent contaminated—it is impossible to say to what extent, but to a certain extent it must be. Now, everyone admits that Bombay is dependent for its health on its sea-breeze, and I think it is very unadvisable to discharge a large quantity of sewage into the sea at a point where it is likely to contaminate the sea breeze. Of course, the opposing argument would be that it is some distance from the city, that you cannot smell it, and that, therefore, it can do no harm because it would be purified by being mixed with the sea water; but I think it is very unwise if we are going to be dependent in Bombay on the sea-breeze —from which we are all supposed to derive health—being purified on its way between the outfall and the city, I think it is a very unwise thing to do. Then, as to the strong point which is supposed to be in favour of Worlee, and that is that there is now very little deposit on the rocks. I went there last May, and, as I have mentioned in my report, I found a good deal of deposit; in some places it was 3 inches thick on the rocks.

By the President—How far was that from the present outfall at Worlee? A—Quite close to the south of the outfall. Q—But on the line of the outfall, or how far from the outfall? A—Well it was some distance from the outfall.

By Mr. Bell—Was it fairly in the bay of the outfall, or on the shore? A—About a quarter of a mile from the bay and on the shore; it commences at the outfall and runs for about high water spring tides, and extended to the outfall itself. Q—What level? A—I did not take the level; I thought it was about mean sea level it commenced, but I should not like to be quite certain. Q—What was the nature of the deposit? A—It looked like a sort of whitish dry mud. I took it up and broke it at a place where it was about 3 inches thick, and it was full of very small thin red worms. There is not a possibility of a doubt, I think, that it was sewage deposit. I could not find any smell in it.

Mr. Hart—Was there any odour? A—Not much. That was in May; I went there the other day and there was a little deposit, not much, though quite sufficient to show me that the course of the current is taking a slight deposit to the south; none whatever to the north.

MR. ADAMJEE PEERBHOY, Government Tent Contractor and Merchant, begs most respectfully to notify for the information of his Constituents in Bombay and the Mofussil that he has, at considerable expense, made several special improvements to his Tents to suit their convenience and comfort. The SUPERIORITY of the TENTS over others was proved beyond doubt at the IMPERIAL ASSEMBLAGE CAMP at DELHI last year; and those Gentlemen who last year patronised him were, he is glad to say, thoroughly satisfied, and have certified that his Tents were greatly superior to others, and the charges were comparatively moderate.

Mr. A. P. is also able to prepare ready for delivery within a week's time Tents of any description for Gentlemen who may be desirous of having them on shortest notice.

SECOND YEARLY ISSUE OF
PRIZE CHRISTMAS ANNUAL AND ALMANAC FOR 1878."

The Annual will be well and copiously illustrated by the best European Artists in India. The Calendar especially being embellished with original artistic borders, of great beauty, and the whole will be bound in a richly ornamented cover, having an appropriate and elaborate titlepage.

The Contents will comprise Tales, Poetry, Conundrums, &c. &c., after the fashion of the ventures of this class periodically appearing in England at the Christmas Season. The Tales, Verse, &c., it is proposed to obtain by offering the following prizes:—

First, for the best original Tale, suitable to the season and to the country, length say about six to eight pages of Charivari.

Rs. 250 is offered as a Prize.

Secondly, for the best Original Poem, said poem to be of a humourous or serio-comic nature, not to exceed in length one hundred and fifty lines, or to be of less than one hundred lines.

Rs. 150 is offered.

Thirdly, for the best Original Conundrum, a prize of

Rs. 100 will be given.

Some of the best of the rejected tales and poems will also be taken. A selection of the conundrums will also be made to follow the prize one.

Competitors should send their names and addresses in a sealed envelope with their contributions, bearing outside the nom de plume or motto with which their composition is signed. Each contribution must be accompanied by a subscription for the Annual.

To afford time for selection, no tales, poems, or conundrums can be received for the purpose of this competition later than the 30th November.

In conclusion the proprietors call attention with confidence to the large measure of success which attended their original venture last year, and the unanimous verdict of approval which the press accorded it. It will be their endeavour to make their second venture even more worthy than their former effort of the support of the public.

A Few Copies still on hand of "Charivari's Prize Christmas Annual and Almanac for 1877."

ILL-HEALTH.—Numerous Diseases arise or cannot be got rid of by reason of impurity of blood. OLD DOCTOR JACOB TOWNSEND'S SARSAPARILLA has now for nearly half a century been prescribed in all such cases. Its cleansing, tonic, and restorative qualities render it peculiarly efficacious in cases of Biliousness, Disordered Stomach or Liver, Headache, Skin, Blotches, Piles, and ailments arising from a tainted state of the blood or debilitated constitution. To those living in unhealthy cities or in unhealthy districts its effects are magical. Many remedies for particular diseases fall in consequence of the enfeebled and impure state of the system. Cleanse, strengthen, and purify the system and blood, and maladies which have long proved incurable will vanish or yield to other remedies.

In conjunction with this invaluable Preparation may, with great advantage, be taken the OLD DOCTOR'S SARSAPARILLA PILLS, aperient and alterative, but not purgative. Wholesale Agents Messrs. Bathgate and Co. for Bengal and Calcutta; Messrs. Barry and Co. Vepery, Madras, or at the Sarsaparilla Depot, 121, Fleet Street, London.
